

Public Universities

Kentucky's four-year public universities have many sources of financial aid. KHEAA contacts these higher education institutions on an annual basis to gather the most up-to-date information about their programs. In this section, you will find descriptions of the financial aid programs administered by four-year public institutions that offer associate, bachelor's, master's, professional, and doctoral degrees.

College of Business and Public Administration

The College of Business and Public Administration is a senior college. Scholarships and awards are granted to junior- and/or senior-level students based on scholastic achievement, financial need, leadership, and other criteria. Scholarships are used for tuition reimbursement. Full-tuition scholarships are equivalent to the in-state resident fee.

In addition, local corporations make donations to the College of Business and Public Administration from time to time to fund additional scholarships. Because these vary from year to year, they are not listed here.

Applications are available in the Advising Center early in the spring semester, and scholarships are awarded for the following academic year. Most recipients are chosen by the College of Business Scholarships, Honors, and Awards Committee after a review of applications.
